Fugitive drug gang suspect arrested

AN Ormskirk man who spent a year on the list of the 10 most wanted British fugitives has been tracked down and arrested in Ghana.

The Champion revealed in March 2015 that David McDermott, 42, was named as wanted by the National Crime Agency (NCA) on suspicion of conspiracy to supply cocaine and conspiracy to blackmail.

He is believed to be part of a Liverpool–based crime gang that conspired to import 400 kilogrammes of cocaine, with a street value estimated at £71million, which was discovered hidden in a consignment of frozen Argentinian beef in a container at Tilbury Docks, Essex three years ago.

Not knowing the cocaine had been seized, McDermott was observed by NCA officers meeting other members of the group.

The cocaine was replaced with dummy packages of bricks and the container was taken on a lorry to its end destination – a cold storage unit in Wigan. A member of the crime group collected two holdalls but later dumped them when he realised the drugs were not inside.

NCA officers watched and listened as McDermott met with members of the crime group at Aintree Retail Park. He is the last man from the gang to be arrested.

McDermott, who featured in the Operation Captura fugitive campaign, was arrested during a joint operation involving officers from the NCA and the Ghanaian Bureau of National Investigation.

Officers detained him at a house in Ghana's capital city, Accra and extradition proceedings are due to begin next week.

David McDermott being arrested in Ghana

McDermott's arrest means 76 out of 86 fugitives on the Captura list have now been caught.

Dave Allen, head of the NCA's International Crime Bureau, said: "This arrest is a result of close working with the Ghanaian authorities and shows our determination and success in tracking down fugitives, however far they run in an attempt to evade capture.

"McDermott was the last man outstanding in a plot to smuggle a huge quantity of cocaine which would have ended up on the streets of Merseyside. He will now be returned to the UK to stand trial."

The NCA investigation into the importation and supply of the cocaine found at Tilbury Docks has already resulted in six people being sentenced to a total of 64 years.

Brave Daniel is on cloud nine after meeting his silver screen hero

Report by Danielle Thompson

A BRAVE youngster from Ormskirk who is battling a brain tumour was on cloud nine this week - thanks to a film star and the efforts of a national charity.

For five-year-old Daniel Bell from Black Moss Lane it was a dream come true when he travelled down to London on Friday to meet his hero Finn from hit movie Star Wars: The Force Awakens, aka A-list actor John Boyega.

The trip was organised by the Rays of Sunshine Children's Charity, which aims to brighten up the lives of seriously ill children in the UK by granting their wishes.

And big-hearted Daniel also helped to put a smile on the faces of other poorly youngsters by joining John to deliver toys to young patients being treated at The Royal London Hospital.

However he still found time to get John to show him and sister Layla a few lightsaber tricks as well!

PRICELESS

Mum, Rosalind, said: "Daniel loves Star Wars and especially Finn - he thinks he is super cool and runs around the house pretending to be him every day.

"To see Daniel smile like that without a care in the world after everything he's been through, knowing how much time and effort Rays of Sunshine have put in to his wish and that John Boyega gave his time to make it come true, is priceless.

"This has changed Daniel's world for him. These things can't be bought and really do mean the world. There are no words to express how grateful we are to you all.

"Daniel is on cloud nine - or should we say, somewhere past Jakku!"

John Boyega said: "When I heard about Daniel's wish to meet Finn, I jumped at the chance to make it come true. It was fantastic to be a part of his very special wish with Rays of Sunshine.

"He is an amazing and inspirational boy and it was a pleasure to meet him and his family. It was also great to meet the children at The Royal London Hospital and be a part of something so positive."

The Champion has featured Daniel's inspirational family before.

For the last two years they have collected used Christmas trees in January, raising thousands of pounds for resources including i-Pads for patients and beds for parents at Alder Hey Children's Hospital in Liverpool where Daniel has been treated.

Lottery officials 'going for gold' in bid to trace 'missing' millionaire

NATIONAL Lottery officials are stepping up their efforts to track down the holder of a Lotto Millionaire Raffle ticket bought in the West Lancashire or Southport area last November.

A gold Aston Martin will be driven around the area tomorrow (Thursday, March 17) in a bid to jog the memories of residents who could be sitting on a fortune.

The ticket, with code LIME 8233 8540, was drawn out in the special Lotto draw on Saturday, November 21 when 10 raffle prizes of £1 million each were up for grabs.

To date, no-one has come forward to claim the prize and the National Lottery is 'speeding up' its search for the missing Lotto millionaire.

The gold sports car will set off from Burscough Wharf at 1pm.

The winner only has until May 19 to claim their prize.

If it is still unclaimed on that date, the £1 million, plus all the interest generated, will go to help National Lottery-funded projects across the UK.

Man stabbed neighbour four times after 'red mist descended'

Report by Lynda Roughley

A COURT heard yesterday (Tuesday, March 15) how a young Ormskirk man stabbed a neighbour four times with a kitchen knife after "the red mist descended".

One of the blows inflicted by Connor McDonald punctured a lung and his victim needed emergency treatment.

19-year-old McDonald, who repeatedly sobbed during the hearing, as did female relatives in the public gallery, was sentenced to six years detention.

Kate Morley, prosecuting, told Liverpool Crown Court that the victim, 33-year-old Michael Kelly, had befriended his next door neighbour McDonald two or three years ago and used to give him help and advice.

On the evening of December 10 last year Mr Kelly was at home in Spinner Mews, Ormskirk, looking after his four young children when McDonald called round for cigarettes.

He came in and they each drank four bottles of beer and at about 10pm Mr Kelly's partner and her friend came home and they all sat drinking.

"The defendant became rather noisy and was asked to quieten down but he refused and the complainant asked him to leave and opened the patio."

McDonald became abusive and refused to leave but Mr Kelly pushed him out of the door and a struggle ensued. McDonald went back to his home next door.

Miss Morley said that Mr Kelly, his partner and her friend went outside to wait for a taxi for the friend and Mr Kelly asked McDonald why he had been so "disrespectful" to him in his own home.

McDonald approached him and punched him on the forehead. Mr Kelly's partner intervened and after pushing her McDonald ran into his home.

Sentencing him Judge David Aubrey, QC, that after punching his victim "the red mist descended on you. You went into your house to get a knife. You did so and returned and then stabbed your victim on at least four occasions expressing threats, 'I'm going to kill you.' You had lost all sense of self-control."

At hospital it was found that the victim had suffered a two-centimetre lacerations the side of his chest which had punctured his lung and a drain had to be inserted. He was kept in as a patient until December 12.

He also had a two-centimetre laceration to his left shoulder and superficial cuts to his left thigh. He lost earnings from his job as a ground worker while off sick and suffers numbness to the left side of his chest as a nerve was severed.

Miss Morley said that McDonald was found by police hiding by bushes in a nearby garden and when questioned he claimed he had been acting in self-defence.

Paul Becker, defending, said that McDonald, who had been seriously attacked last year, has mental health issues.

He pleaded guilty to wounding.

Pupils take part in 'speed'watch' project

PRIMARY school pupils were able to ask speeding motorists what speed they thought they were travelling at when they were caught in an initiative aimed at making drivers think more carefully about their actions.

Youngsters from Westhead Lathom St James Primary School in Ormskirk took part in the speed-warning session with Helen Fairhurst, road safety adviser for Lancashire County Council and a team of three Lancashire Constabulary officers, Ged Haselden, Mick Ginn and Jill Reed.

They clocked the speed of vehicles travelling past the school using a speedometer, a gauge which instantly measures and displays the speed of a vehicle travelling past.

Helen Fairhurst told the Champion: "Pupils from Westhead Lathom St James Primary School hope to remind motorists keep to the speed limit.

"Pupils worked alongside uniformed police officers to monitor and record the speed of vehicles. If a driver was caught exceeding the speed limit they were stopped by the officer, who handed them a warning notice and then offered them the chance to speak to the pupils.

"The pupils asked the driver questions including if they knew what speed they were driving at; if they knew what the speed limit on the road was; why they were speeding; what could they do to prevent speeding again and if it would make them think more about their speed in the future.

"Every driver that we stopped agreed it definitely would!

"During the road-watch scheme, the use of mobile phones, not wearing seatbelts and drink-driving were also coved by the police officers."

County's £2m lifeline for bus services threatened with axe

Report by Henry James

A NUMBER of bus services in West Lancashire which looked set to be axed have been handed a possible lifeline after Lancashire County Council agreed to invest £2m to support routes in many areas which would otherwise have no public transport.

The county council has said the fund will support 28 routes, "to ensure people can get to work, do their shopping, and access education, health and other vital services".

The authority had been due to withdraw funding from 113 routes throughout the county from April with bus companies expected to operate 40 of these on a commercial basis.

But the decision by the county to fund a further 28 routes means 68 of the 113 threatened routes will continue from Monday, April 3 on a full or partial basis.

Routes to receive funding in West Lancashire include the numbers 3A, 5, 6 and 347 services.

A cross-party cabinet working group had been established to consider the impact of the decision by the county council to withdraw 113 existing bus contracts from April as part of £65m budget savings.

County CouncillorFillis

The group met to consider the response from bus operators to the new contracts being proposed, and made recommendations to the cabinet member for highways and transport to go ahead with funding 26 services for 12 months from April.

Following the meeting, it was decided to accept the working group's recommendations andalso to support the 24A and 109A services, to be funded in partnership with Chorley Council.

Skemersdale County Councillor John Fillis, Lancashire's cabinet member for highways and transport, said: "Following the decision by government to cut hundreds of millions of pounds of funding to Lancashire County Council we have been forced to reduce our current funding for buses from around £7m to £2m.

" I'm very pleased to accept the working group's recommendation to fund these bus services which will mean most areas of the county will continue to receive regular public transport.

"Some of these services will not operate as often as they do at the moment, but the new timetables will ensure there is a bus at peak times when people would most need them to access employment and education, and enough services to allow people to make vital appointments such as visiting the doctor.

"There has been a positive response from the bus companies in continuing to operate 40 services commercially and the decisions I have made today to invest £2m to support a further 28 services, mean that most areas will continue to be served by a bus after April.

"I'd encourage people to help us to maintain these buses by using them regularly. I hesitate to use the phrase 'use it or lose it' but it's clear that the best way to keep these buses is to use them."

Final version of town boost plan revealed

Members of the strategy team with copies of the final version

THE final version of a plan designed to help boost Ormskirk as a visitor destination has been revealed.

The Ormskirk Town Centre Strategy is a five-year plan developed by West Lancashire Borough Council, who worked with local stakeholders, to help drive growth and ensure that Ormskirk can remain attractive and competitive.

West Lancashire residents and businesses were able to have their say on a draft of the document through the public consultation process.

The strategy aims to provide a clear direction to deliver positive change, improve business confidence and encourage quality investment. It outlines a long-term vision for the town centre and identifies short-term priorities to address key issues and capitalise on opportunities available. These priorities have been developed into a five-year action plan, which is a working document to be monitored and updated on a regular basis.

Key aims of the strategy include developing a brand marketing campaign, improving the management of the town centre, improving and enhancing the appearance and appeal of the town centre including making the most of the town's historic character, reviewing the current car parking arrangements, improving the current transport and access arrangement in the town and improving the evening economy.

Councillor Ian Moran, leader of the council, said: "I am really pleased that we now have the final strategy and I encourage people to visit the council's website and take a look at it.

"We are already working on some of the actions outlined in the strategy with our partners and we will continue with the strategy to help ensure Ormskirk has a vibrant and successful future."

MP welcomes belated pledge to seek permanent solution to M58 drainage problem

Report by Henry James

ROSIE Cooper has welcomed the news that the Highways Agency has belatedly pledged to seek 'permanent solutions' to improve drainage on a section of the M58 motorway in West Lancashire where fatal accidents occurred in 2011 and 2014.

But she said it had been a 'battle' and the authority had only been forced to acknowledge the problems as a result of video evidence.

The West Lancs MP has been working with residents to secure action from the agency to tackle the "inadequate" surface water drainage on the motorway near to Junction 3 in Bickerstaffe.

Until their latest letter to Ms Cooper, the MP said the Highways Agency had offered repeated reassurances that they had fixed the root causes of the surface water problem affecting road safety.

However, having been presented with the video evidence and followng a further accident in December last year on that section of the motorway, their position had now shifted.

In response to Ms Cooper's concerns the Highways Agency state that they've, "instigated action to ensure that drivers are alerted to the potential for surface water and to establish permanent measures are required to ensure the water drains more effectively."

Rosie Cooper said: "It is hugely disappointing that it is only now, in the face of video evidence and yet another accident, that the Highways Agency finally accept that there are still problems with surface water drainage on this section of the M58 where there have been two fatal accidents in the last five years.

"Despite all the reassurances and the costly resurfacing, only now do we get a commitment to 'permanent measures' to address the surface water problems. People's safety is at stake and there can be no half-measures.

"It's time to get it right, once and for all. Two fatalities is two too many.

"I would strongly encourage drivers using the westbound carriageway of the M58 to be extremely cautious, especially in wet weather conditions.

"Thankfully the existence of video evidence from December's extremely heavy rainfall convinced the Highways Agency that surface water on the M58 remained a problem and a safety concern, despite their previous reassurances."

The MP added that initially the Highways Agency were guided by a Road Safety Collision Accident Report which indicated that the below-ground drainage system was working effectively. The report recommended a resurfacing of a 600-metre section of the westbound carriageway to improve the run-off of surface water. The resurfacing work was done in January, 2015.

The MP, along with residents and Highways Agency officials, held a site visit on February 17, 2015 to discuss the ongoing concerns over the safety of the road conditions.

At that time the agency stated in correspondence to the MP that they were "confident that the resurfacing work we have undertaken will significantly reduce the likelihood of vehicles losing control" and that they had addressed the root cause of these incidents.

The Highways Agency did commit to continue monitoring the situation at this location with a focus on the surface water drainage.

During 2015 the agency reported that they had visited the location on more than 12 locations following heavy rainfall and had visited on three occasions in 2016.

They stated that "none of our visits identified any significant issues with surface water on the carriageway." The MP commented that this was despite a further accident on this stretch of the motorway in December 2015.

A spokesperson for the Highways Agency responded: "We are aware that the drainage system on the M58, near junction 3 at Bickerstaffe, has struggled to cope with the exceptional heavy rain this winter. We have visited the site to investigate the issue and are now establishing what permanent measures may be required."

West Lancs quartet were part of £5m drugs gang

Report by Lynda Roughley

A £5million drugs gang used "apparently harmless" middle-aged people driving cars and caravans to try and avoid police attention, a court has heard.

Thirteen people, including three from Skelmersdale and one from Burscough, involved in cocaine and amphetamine plots, have been jailed for a total of more than 60 years.

Jailing the men, Judge Alan Conrad, QC, said the gang's three conspiracies were "marked by their professionalism and careful organisation."

Legitimate businesses were used as cover. Taxis were used. Vans were acquired and liveried to appear legitimate. Cars and caravans were used - driven by apparently harmless middle-aged people in order to avoid attention.

"As and when drugs were seized this was treated simply as a risk of the enterprise and the operation continued, with the methods used changing."

Liverpool Crown Court heard that the North West Regional Organised Crime Unit (Titan) investigated the gang's activities between February 2014 and June 2015 as part of Operation Pitscale.

Simon Berkson, prosecuting, said 47-year-old Paul Berry - who co-owned an Internet tickets and events company in Manchester - was the ringleader.

Berry's "right-hand man" Stephen Reeves, 48, used his furniture business Skemersdale Furnishings as a cover to transport drugs.

Kenneth Pritchard, 67, used his BMW to "transport box loads of drugs" and allowed his caravan, kept in a timber yard in Burscough, to be used to store cocaine.

Dean Stephen, 36, was provided with a van "disguised with a false logo" to transport significant amounts of drugs, which he also stored at his home.

The court heard Lee Tarry, 33, was stopped by police travelling from Skelmersdale to Glasgow in a taxi on February 14, 2014. Hidden inside a bed - identical to those sold by Reeves' furniture firm - was 3kg of 60 to 70% pure cocaine, valued at £720,000.

On June 16, 2014, a dog walker found 45kg of amphetamine, valued at up to £900,000, in rural Meadow Lane, Ormskirk.

Peter Linford, 58, had hired a van, collected the haul and "stashed it in a hedge overnight", but was caught when he returned to collect the drugs.

Disguised

Reeves and Linford also disguised a Ford Connect van with the logo 'Auto Valet Direct' before it was given to Stephen. Officers seized 51kg of amphetamine from this van and Stephen's home, valued at £514,000, on October 9.

Police stopped drugs courier Warren Bennett, 36, who was driving a tipper truck in Litherland, on December 8. They asked him to move a heavy bag, which he initially said contained tools.

The bag was found to contain 46kg of amphetamine, valued at up to £456,000.

Pritchard was stopped in his BMW X5 on February 12, 2015 by police who had been observing him for months. Officers recovered 68kg of amphetamine from the car and 2kg of "import quality" cocaine - secreted in a void in a cupboard - from his caravan.

On March 7 they caught Darren Highfield, 44, transporting 18kg of amphetamine to Sheffield to the homes of Dimitri Wright, 40, and Ryan Vintin, 38.

The court heard that on April 21, 227g of 83% pure cocaine was found in a car containing Stephen Higgs, 32, Michael Kearns, 43 and Anoushka Lindsay, 40, on the M6.

The gang all pleaded guilty to their involvement in respective conspiracies, with Berry and Reeves admitting all three charges.

Berry, of Preston, who was on licence for a previous cocaine plot, was jailed for 11 years.

Reeves, of Charnock, Skelmersdale, who had no previous convictions, was jailed for nine years. Tarry, of Cherrycroft, Skelmersdale was jailed for five years.

Stephen, of Egerton, Skelmersdale, was given 12 months to run consecutively to a three-year sentence he is currently serving.

Heritage day launch for history group's website

LOCAL history group, Images of Burscough, held a special 'heritage day' to celebrate the launch of their new website.

More than 400 people turned up to the event, which was launched by Mayor of West Lancashire, Councillor Nikki Hennessy at the Stanley Club in Liverpool Road North.

Since 2010, local photography and history enthusiast Michael Dawson has been running two popular pages on social media site Facebook, called Images of Burscough and surrounding areas and HMS Ringtail RNAS Burscough, which have attracted more than 2,000 members.

The new website, also called Images of Burscough and surrounding areas, has been funded by Burscough Parish Council.

More than 480 photographs were on display at the launch, as well as memorabilia and film footage, and guests were also able to sample traditional Ormskirk gingerbread made to the original 1850 recipe!

Members of the Burscough Heritage Group and the Lathom and Burscough Military Heritage Society were on hand to talk to visitors interested in historical and military research.

Local historian, Lawrence Critchley, said: "The launch event was wonderful, with more than 400 people attending. We would like to thank everyone who came and also our special guests Burscough Heritage Group and the Lathom and Burscough Military Heritage Society. We are planning a similar event around November."

For more information contact either Michael Dawson on 01704 894097, Lawrence Critchley on 01695 576978.

Four-figure gift for village OAPs fund

A COMMUNITY group which aims to prevent village pensioners from feeling isolated, has been given a four-figure donation.

The Bickerstaffe Pensioners' Fund has been awarded £1,400 from the Skipton Building Society Charitable Foundation, a fund set up through the national bank for registered charities based in the UK, where there is clear and immediate benefit to children's education and welfare and to elderly and their care.

Bickerstaffe resident Edward McCarthy, who helped the group with their application, said: "Ours is a very spread-out parish and the local transport links are very poor. In such a community, people, especially the elderly, can become isolated and suffer as a consequence of this. Local organisations such as the church, school, Mother's Union and Women's Institute are a real lifeline.

"The Bickerstaffe Pensioners Fund was set up in 1964. It has a two-year cycle - one year it hosts a party and the alternating year it hosts a trip.

"The continuation of the scheme is very important to the people of Bickerstaffe and it's great that funding has been awarded from the Skipton Building Society. On behalf of the Bickerstaffe Pensioners' Fund I would like to thank them."

Poignant talk theme

GUEST speaker Stephen Williams gave a talk on the theme of mothers' love for their sons lost in conflict at the last meeting of the West Lancashire World War One Anniversary Association at Moorgate Guide headquarters in Ormskirk.

The talk was followed by a question-and-answer session on the topic.

School earns top marks

STAFF and pupils at an Ormskirk secondary school are celebrating after being placed in the top 100 performing state-funded schools in the country.

Schools minister Nick Gibb contacted Christopher Horrocks, headteacher of St Bede's Catholic High in St Anne's Road to congratulate him on the specialist art college's most recent GCSE results in summer 2015.

Mr Horrocks said: "The wonderful achievements of last year's Year 11 pupils have placed the school in the top 100 non-selective, state-funded schools in the country for the percentage of five A*-C grades including English and maths.

"The results for pupils at St Bede's have improved year-on-year due to the dedication and hard work of staff and the commitment to raising standards of teaching and learning in the school"

Schools minister Nick Gibb

And the Nick Gibb commented: "I wish to convey my warmest congratulations to the staff and pupils for the school's very high standard of achievement in the GCSE exams in 2015. The percentage of pupils achieving five or more GCSEs at grades A*-C, including English and mathematics, shows that the school is one of the top 100 non-selective state-funded schools in England.

"Ensuring pupils are achieving at least this benchmark standard of attainment at Key Sstage 4 provides a strong basis for their further education and employment.

"Thanks to the staff for their work in this important area of a young person's education and congratulations again to the staff for their hard work and professionalism."

Council to hold 'listening' events for older people

COUNCIL chiefs are issuing a "we want to hear your concerns" call to the older people of West Lancashire by holding 'listening' events in the borough next week.

The meetings aim to give pensioners the opportunity to give their views on any matters or problems in West Lancs which might be worrying them to Councillor Terry Aldridge, the authority's cabinet member with portfolio for older people.

A member of the council's money advice team will also be at the sessions to deal with any issues with regards to finances that people might wish to raise.

The first listening event will be held on Tuesday, March 22 in the meeting room at the Chapel Gallery, St Helens Road, Ormskirk. It will start at noon and is expected to last until around 1.30pm.

A second will then be staged on Wednesday, March 23 at Evermoor Enterprises (formerly Digmoor Community Centre), Digmoor, Skelmersdale, again running from noon to 1.30pm.

The sessions are free to attend and all are welcome but places should be booked by ringing Jane McNeice on 01695 585216 or emailing jane.mcneice@westlancs.gov.uk.

Councillor Aldridge said: "The main purpose of the events is for me to listen to residents so I hope they will take this opportunity to give me their views.

"We are keen to listen so I'd like people to come along so we can listen to the views of older people about council services.

"We aim to be a listening council, talking to people face-to-face and getting a better understanding of the situation in different areas of the borough.

"In turn, this will help us to shape some of the policies and services that affect older people and I hope it will give us a better understanding of our local communities."

Cllr. Aldridge is also Lancashire County Council's older people champion and performs this role for the borough council as well.

Councillor Terry Aldridge

Champion LETTERS to the Editor

tel 01704 392 400 email editor@champnews.com

Still waiting for a reply on pothole compensation claim

AFTER reading an article in the Champion regarding a pothole in Aughton I felt I should share my story too.

I hit a very large pothole on Thursday, January 7 at 9pm due to it being dark. It completely ripped my three-months-old tyre in two so it needed replacing the following day.

I complained to Lancashire County Council and filled in all the paperwork they required and sent them receipts and photographs.

I received a letter from someone called Amy Croft on January 27 who would be dealing with my claim. Shortly after, the pothole was filled in (therefore accepting liability in my eyes) but as the pothole was filled in so poorly it was back within two weeks.

On February 22, 23 and 24 I rang Amy and left voicemails but received no response. I then emailed and stated that if I had no response within seven days I would be taking it further.

Funnily enough, she emailed back saying that she had all the information required and would now investigate my claim.

Why does it need investigating I have asked, when she has all the evidence. I have told her the pothole is back and bigger, on two occasions after seeing someone else's complaint about it on social media, also that Up Holland and Skelmersdale is full of them.

I am still waiting for a reply.

Kirstie Bradshaw, by email

No excuse for state of roads

I AGREE with your earlier correspondent D.A.A. (Letters, February 17) about the state of the borough's roads.

I drive a lot, every day in fact, and have to say that they must be the worst roads in Lancashire.

Oh, yes, Cottage Lane. I can't understand that the council thinks that there is any excuse for that road to be in that condition.

If those potholes get any worse that they will probably become fatal for someone.

G. E. W., road user, West Lancs

I'd be happy to pay £2 to help save our buses

I AM 73-years-old and I have a bus pass so I can travel on the buses after 9.30am in the morning and all weekend.

But the county council are going to take the buses off some bus routes so what is the good in having a bus pass without a bus service? We still have to pay for a train ticket, to drive your car, and taxis.

So I say if we paid £2 for the first ride and the others are free throughout the day, this could help save our buses and you are still helping disabled people to go out and about!

What is £2 a day to save your bus? Less than a cup of coffee.

The £2 would go towards keeping the buses on the road.

I know it is awful, but the pass could go one day.

Eric Daish, Westhead

Tory comedians could start a new Crazy Gang

WHAT an amusing fellow this David Westley is ('Tories accuse council of failing residents' - Champion, March 2)- such a wicked sense of irony!

To be a member of a political party that is systematically closing down the Welfare State and destroying local services and then accuse his rivals of failing local people is priceless.

Next he'll be claiming that balancing the national budget is the only salvation for Britain when such a strategy was clearly revealed as useless in the 1930s by Chamberlain's pathetic efforts to deal with the Great Depression.

Perhaps Westley should team up with some of the other comedians in Westminster for a new 'Crazy Gang'?

Professor Michael Paris, Parbold

Our Rangers are doing a great job

WE would like to pass on our many thanks to West Lancs ranger service.

The work they have carried out behind Greetby Hill School approaching the station is remarkable.

Walking our dog we regularly pick up litter only to find it regularly replenished the next day.

This much-needed work really makes a difference to our enjoyment of our community.

It would be nice if our local schools could be persuaded to talk with the ranger service and hopefully educate our children that making our community a mess affects us all, including our local wildlife.

Rob and Deb Martindale, Ormskirk

Turbine is a sight to give you sore eyes!

SO N.B.(Letters, March 9) thinks that the wind turbine is a sight for sore eyes - it is, for giving them to you!

Obviously, he or she lives nowhere near to it, or is not in direct line of sight of it. It is a gigantic monstrosity, a blight on the landscape.

I am not alone in having a house that faces south and almost opposite to it approximately a quarter-of-a-mile from it as the crow flies.

As a result, it is the first thing I see of a morning and the last at night as I close my bedroom curtains, seeming to loom over me like the fictional Martian war machines.

More bother than it's worth.

DWS, Tanhouse

Our feathered friends need all the help they can get - but no stale bread or peanuts, please!

UK birds need a fairly constant amount of energy throughout the year and in winter they need energy to keep warm.

Although it is popular to feed birds and ducks stale bread, please tell your children and friends there is hardly any nutritional value in it and birds can suffer serious vitamin deficiencies and starve to death.

Avoid old, stale food, margarine, vegetable oils, milk, desiccated coconut or salted food. They need clean drinking water, mild grated cheese, cooked potatoes and cooked rice.

In spring time include black sunflower seeds, soaked raisins and currants, soft apples and pears cut in half, bananas and grapes, good-quality seed mixtures but NO loose peanuts.

For suitable foods at other times of the year check out the RSBP website.

With the ever-increasing use of pesticides and slug pellets our feathered friends need all the help they can get.

An accident waiting to happen

ON the subject of dangerous potholes I recently read the complaint from 'Angry Pothole Spotter' in the March 9 edition of the Champion newspapers and I agree with this person.

I myself have recently hit a pothole in Bold Lane causing me to have a new tyre on my car.

This could have caused me a serious accident. There are a number of potholes in that road that need desperate attention.

Is anybody planning the repair of these potholes soon before an accident happens?

E.B., Town Green

Devoted ladies' wonderful work

I WOULD like, through The Champion, to express my heartfelt appreciation and admiration for a group of ladies who, 36 years ago, formed The Skelmersdale Lourdes Association.

Besides being busy mothers, homemakers and employees, they devoted much of their free time to fundraise thousands of pounds to enable sick and disabled people to travel to the shrine in Lourdes.

I am, like many others, a grateful recipient of their charitable work and devotion and write this letter in recognition of their wonderful work.

Charity to host free advice event for people with failing eyesight

AN awareness event is being held for people in West Lancs suffering from deteriorating vision.

The free event has been organised by the Aughton and Ormskirk branch of the University of the Third Age (U3A), a charitable organisation that seeks to inspire older people to take up new hobbies and interests.

It will be held at the scout and guide headquarters behind Christ Church off Long Lane in Aughton on Tuesday, March 22 starting at 2pm

A team from national charity, Action for Blind People, will demonstrate how modern technologies can help to keep everyone in touch via i-Pads, other tablet devices and mobile phones.

Members of the public are urged to bring along any devices that they own although there will be equipment to try and lots of opportunity for hands-on experience at the event.

Sue Watkinson, from Aughton and Ormskirk U3A, said: "If you or someone you know is worried about sight loss then please consider coming along."

Although free, places are limited and must be booked by calling Sue on 01695 422 423.

Laptops might have a 'brain' but my old typewriter had a soul!

WELL, it had to happen. I have upset the Gods of All Things Digital, big time.

Hardly surprising perhaps since I have been railing against their infernal machines for quite some time. But what chance does a pygmy such as I have against electronic Gods?

I have had my arguments with my digital TV - and more particularly with its digital recorder. And frankly we seem to have arrived at a sort or grudging compromise.

Unhappily though, I have now learned the hard way that I cannot treat the laptop, up on which I rely to get my copy to the Champion, in quite the same cavalier fashion. Because of recent times it has bitten back, good style.

It started in a small way by suddenly switching itself off from time to time, so forcing me to start whatever I was doing again.

Then, having no doubt realised that I was still coping, the Digital Gods moved on to Stage Two. It began not to switch back on again - claiming that my (non-existent) computer had faults. Faults it would fix if I pressed the right key.

I found that if I followed its instructions it would claim to have reset itself to the last time all was well (October 24th last year to be precise) and switch on again.

Certainly it had reset something – it had reverted back to BST and I therefore had to reset the clock as well. Unhappily though, the remedy did nothing to stop its other antics.

By trial and error I found that if I simply unplugged it from the mains, started it and when the battery flattened replace it again, all was well. Until yesterday.

Then yes, although to outward appearances all seemed well, it simply refused point blank actually to type anything at all. Followers of the now very cross Gods have finally triumphed.

The laptop is even now being examined to see what I have done unto it and whether it can be persuaded to do its job again; or if indeed it's due for that great Digital scrapyard in the sky.

So this 'Dog' column is being put in on a borrowed machine at Champion Towers. I'll let you know how the laptop has got on next week - I hope!

Actually, I entered the simply electronic, as opposed to digital, world quite willingly many years ago when working for BT. My boss, the Eastern Region press officer and myself were allocated two brand-new, top-of-the-range, electronic typewriters, the very best of the breed and, in fact, superior to those possessed by the regional directors' secretaries.

And I loved my machine. Of course, it was 'just' a typewriter, it didn't possess any 'brain' of its own. But it did have something missing from any digital contrivance - a soul!

When you switched it on of a morning it made all sorts of whirring and clicking noises before settling down to do your bidding – and nothing more.

It made absolutely no attempt to boss you about, to scold you or to blame you. It simply did its job and let you get on with yours.

Those were the days, my friend.

Memory check call as part of new dementia awareness campaign

Family and friends urged to help spot tell-tale signs

Report by Danielle Thompson

GET it checked by your GP!

That's the message being issued to people experiencing problems with their memory as part of a new dementia awareness campaign launched by Lancashire County Council this week.

County Councillor Azhar Ali

The campaign, supported by the Alzheimer's Society, is also aimed at friends and relatives who may have noticed changes in the memory or behaviour of someone they know who are being urged to help them spot the signs and start a conversation about it.

County Councillor Azhar Ali, Lancashire's cabinet member for health and wellbeing, said: "We all misplace things from time to time, forget names or have changes in our mood.

"But this campaign is about helping people notice if it is beginning to disrupt everyday life, and letting them know that the sooner they get it checked out the better.

Diagnosed

"It can be difficult to start a conversation with someone if you are concerned that they may be showing signs of dementia or another memory-related condition.

"But those who get help earlier have a better quality of life for longer, so it's important that they go to their GP at the earliest sign of any problems."

Dr Sakthi Karunanithi, the county's director of public health and wellbeing, added: "There are currently more than 10,000 people in Lancashire who have been diagnosed with dementia but it is estimated that the actual number of people with the condition is much higher.

"These are people who may have dementia but are not aware of it and therefore are not getting support to help them live well with the condition."

MP demands fairer deal for borough in Budget

ROSIE Cooper is demanding a better deal from the government.

The West Lancs MP has called on Chancellor George Osborne to offer a fairer funding package for the borough when he announces his latest Budget today (Wednesday, March 16).

According to figures released by the Labour party West Lancashire residents will have lost £81.64 spending power per household by 2020.

She said: "As these figures show, the Conservative government is expecting local councils to do more and more whilst significantly slashing council budgets.

"Despite all the government's talk about protecting local services, these figures reveal the reality. It is the people of West Lancashire paying the price of a government who continue to fill the coffers of their friends rather than supporting all communities."

And Steve Reed, the shadow minister for local government, added: "The government said they were protecting local services but the reality is more and deeper cuts everywhere except the wealthiest areas.

"They promised to be a one nation government but everyone can see they are taking from the poor to give to the rich like some kind of reverse Robin Hood.

"Local services are at risk thanks to decisions made by Tory ministers who hope people won't see through their hollow promises."

Rosie Cooper

Call for more beat bobbies

THE Conservative candidate for the Lancashire police and crime commissioner role, Andy Pratt, has been canvassing the views of West Lancs residents on their local policing issues.

Matters raised by the public during his visit to Ormskirk town centre included the call for a crackdown on anti-social behaviour, a desire to see the police working more closely with the community and appeals for more officers out 'on the beat' in the area.

'Savvy' students banking on success in national finance challenge

Report by Danielle Thompson

A QUARTET of shrewd students from West Lancashire have reached the semi-finals of a national virtual investment competition.

Isaac Brewer, Matthew Pearson, Thomas Marshall and James Allen from Burscough Priory Science College competed against 10,000 other teams from across the UK to win a place in the IFS Student Investor Challenge, having 'made' £4,000 in a three-month period of virtual online trading.

The IFS Student Investor Challenge, run by financial education charity IFS University College, is the largest investment competition for schools in the UK.

It's free to enter and provides teams with two virtual investment portfolios of £100,000 where they are challenged to make both short-term and strategic trades.

Philosophy

The Burscough team, known as the 'BPSC greats', will now go on to represent the college in the next phase of the challenge, where they will be awarded points for accurately predicting the closing price of certain assets on a weekly basis, testing different skills.

If they are successful at the semi-final stage, they will have the chance of making it through to the national final in April where they could win an all-expenses-paid educational trip to New York and £2,000.

Dr Graham Clarke, headteacher at Burscough Priory Science College, said: "We passionately believe that all young people have the right to an education that prepares them for life. At Burscough Priory Science College, we strive to do this every day and the IFS Student Investor Challenge is an excellent example of this philosophy in action in our school curriculum.

"Congratulations to all involved in the team."

Michael Prendergast and staff from Dickinson, Parker Hill present the cheque for £11, 611 to representatives of PhabKids.

Law firm's 'Phab-ulous' effort for charity!

THE local branch of a charity which encourages and supports children and adults with and without disabilities to make more of life together has been given a five-figure boost - thanks to the staff and clients of Dickinson Parker Hill Solicitors.

The firm based in Derby Street, Ormskirk raised more than £11,600 for the £11,600 for the Southport and Ormskirk Branch of PhabKids by taking part in the annual Charity Will Month campaign.

Since 2009, the firm has raised more than £73,000 for local good causes by taking part in Charity Will Month each November. The scheme works by clients making a donation to charity instead of paying a fee for their will. The minimum donation for a simple single will is £60 and £120 for simple mirror wills.

Michael Prendergast, partner at Dickinson Parker Hill, said: "Once again we want to thank all of our staff and clients for taking part in this very worthwhile cause. We are pleased to be able to help local people through the provision of an important service and help a local charity at the same time."

PhabKids will use the funds to continue to provide their services throughout Lancashire and the surrounding area. They help disabled children get involved in a variety of sports and activities.

Cloudy2Clear Announce Trusted Trader Partnership

Consumer champions Which? have now joined the thousands of customers who recognise that Cloudy2Clear Windows really are a business that you can TRUST. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has received the coveted 'Which Trusted Trader' status after going through a rigorous accreditation process entirely focussed on customer service.

Group Managing Director Marcus McGee believes that Which? have endorsed Cloudy2Clear's long standing company policy of delivering the highest standards possible at all times. 'Our service is simple. If your double glazing has misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 25 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Whilst a number of tradespeople perhaps don't focus on customer care as much as they should do, we make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle.

Locally Cloudy2Clear service the Crosby, Litherland, Aintree, Maghull, Walton, Anfield, Netherton & Bootle areas and manager Louis Richards agrees that this approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated as both my customers and, obviously a body as nationally important as Which? now recognise.'

County council backs drive to tackle child abuse

Report by Henry James

LANCASHIRE County Council is backing a government campaign to tackle child abuse.

'Together, We Can Tackle Child Abuse' encourages people to report any suspicions they have that a child may be being neglected or abused.

Figures revealed as part of the campaign show that 37% of people across the North West are put off reporting suspected child abuse for fear of being wrong.

Statistics also show that 41% of people in the region would find reporting the neglect or abuse of a child more challenging than delivering news of the death of a friend or family member.

The campaign aims to emphasise the message that everyone has a role in tackling child abuse. It will reassure people that they don't need to worry about being wrong and to act on their suspicions and report any possible child abuse or neglect.

Lancashire's cabinet member for children, young people and schools, County Councillor Matthew Tomlinson, said: "All children have the right to be protected and be safe from all forms of abuse and neglect.

"The police, social care workers and staff from other agencies do a great job of looking for signs of abuse and neglect and reporting it. However, we all have a part to play.

"Research tells us that a third of people who suspect child abuse don't do anything about it. A number of people do not act on their suspicions because they're worried about being wrong.

Bigger picture

"It's important to remember you don't have to be certain about your suspicions - if you have a feeling that something isn't right, talk to your local children's social care team who can look into it.

"Information about potential abuse is gathered from many sources and your report would form one part of a bigger picture.

"People reporting abuse really does make a difference. In 2014/15, more than 400,000 children in England were supported because someone noticed they needed help. This just shows the value and importance of reporting suspect abuse and I'd urge people to come forward and talk to our social care teams if they have suspicions."

To report child abuse or neglect, visit gov.uk/reportchildabuse or contact Lancashire County Council's childrens' assessment and referral team on 0300 123 6720 in normal office hours (8am to 8pm) or 0300 123 6722 outside office hours.

If you believe someone is in immediate danger of harm, or their life may be at risk, call 999 as soon as possible.

To spot possible signs of child abuse or neglect, look for the following changes, often referred to as the ABC signs:

- Appearance – such as frequent unexplained injuries, consistently poor hygiene, matted hair, unexplained gifts, or a parent regularly collecting children from school when drunk.
- Behaviour - such as demanding or aggressive behaviour, frequent lateness or absence from school, avoiding their own family, misusing drugs or alcohol, or being constantly tired.
- Communication – such as sexual or aggressive language, self-harming, becoming secretive and reluctant to share information or being overly obedient.

County councillor Matthew Tomlinson

The search is on for heroic pets

CALLING all pet owners in West Lancashire!

If your furry, feathered or four-legged friend has done something heroic now's your chance to nominate them for a special award in the Blue Cross Medal 2016 competition.

Sally de la Bedoyere, chief executive of the Blue Cross animal welfare charity, said: "The Blue Cross medal is our way of honouring the amazing connection we have with our pets. They can be heroes for all sorts of reasons and we want to hear your stories about the ways that they have made a difference."

The Blue Cross Medal was reinstated in 2014 to mark the centenary of the start of the First World War when it was first awarded to honour horses which had served in the war.

Sick, injured and homeless pets have relied on Blue Cross since 1897 and the charity played an important role providing front-line veterinary care to horses during the First World War.

Nominations for the medal are now open. To nominate a pet and find out more, visit the website: www.bluecross.org.uk/medal.

Pupils' boost for food banks

BIG-hearted schoolchildren have collected more than 1,000 items for local food banks.

Staff and pupils from Ormskirk School held the collection to support of Ormskirk, Skelmersdale and Knowsley Trussell Trust food banks as part of a week-long project designed to teach pupils about local charities and donating.

The project ended with an event showcasing the donated food and a talk by Duncan Petty, a minister from Oaks Church in Tanhouse who is also a board member for the Trussel Trust food bank in Skelmersdale.

Mr Petty fielded in-depth questions from the pupils about his commitment to various charitable projects around the local area.

The donated food has now been taken to the food banks' storage facilities where it will be packaged up and sent out to local families in need.

Religious education teacher and project organise, Jennifer Moore, said that it was important for the children's development to learn how to be charitable.

She said: "It is so important for our children and young people to engage with these issues in a real way.

"The reality is that thousands of families in the North West rely on food banks on a regular basis. By donating food and meeting with the representatives from the food banks, pupils can begin to understand the real-life implications of the topics we discuss in our classrooms every day."

Seaside celebration

A GROUP of residents from a care home in Ormskirk enjoyed a trip to the seaside to celebrate International Women's Day.

The party from Abbey Wood Lodge on County Road made the short journey to Dobbies Garden Centre in Southport, where they enjoyed sandwiches and cakes before toasting the achievement of women everywhere with a glass of wine.

Local firms miss out on business awards

WEST Lancashire businesses narrowly missed out at the Red Rose Awards when 26 coveted trophies were handed out to the county's best businesses.

The event, held at Blackpool's Winter Gardens' Empress Ballroom saw companies from the length and breadth of the county vying for titles across a range of categories, with the best, as selected by a panel of expert judges, progressing through to the shortlist and interview stage.

Skelmersdale-based Fairbanks, which provides monitoring services for the petrol retail industry, was a finalist in the Innovation Award, the International Achievement Award and Large Business Award category; Scott Rees and Co. solicitors was a finalist in the Legal Business Award; and Cedar Farm a finalist in the Retail Business Award and the Rural Diversification Award.

Fascinating peep into past

MEMBERS of Lathom Park Trust enjoyed a fascinating talk on the fourth Earl of Derby at their annual general meeting at Briars Hall Hotel.

Guest speaker, Doctor Stephen Lloyd, the curator of the Derby collection at Knowsley Hall, gave a talk on the household inventory and the funeral of Henry, the fourth Earl of Derby, who died in 1593, at his house at New Park, Lathom, which is now the site of Ormskirk Golf Club.

Dr Lloyd also read out the account of the funeral procession which was attended by nobility from all over England.

Engagement event offers local businesses chance to bid for constabulary contracts

Report by Henry James

LOCAL businesses are being given the chance to 'pitch' for contracts with Lancashire Constabulary for the first time by attending a supplier engagement event at the force headquarters in Hutton.

Organised in conjunction with leading procurement and supply chain management service, Constructionline, the event on Wednesday, March 30 offers contractors the chance to bid for works across the organisation and is aimed primarily at small local businesses.

It will inform potential suppliers about the opportunities to bid for inclusion within a framework agreement, for reactive repairs and maintenance, for minor works up to the sum of £60,000 per category.

The works will cover headquarters as well as the force's stations across Lancashire. Local suppliers can bid for the whole of the region or just the areas of East, West and South Lancashire.

Lancashire Constabulary is looking for contractors who can supply skills and services such as groundworks, joinery (including UPVC), plumbing, drainage, mechanical engineering, roofing (including cladding) general building, electrical repairs, painting and decorating, fabrication and locks.

Clive Grunshaw

A spokesman for the constabulary said: "This is a great opportunity to be able to work with small local suppliers in Lancashire who can provide a range of services across the region. It also enables us to create a pool of companies, ensuring that works will be carried out quickly and efficiently."

The county's police and crime commissioner, Clive Grunshaw, added: "Local businesses are at the heart of communities across Lancashire and it's really important that we find new ways of working with them.

"I am committed to an approach of commissioning Lancashire-based services and companies wherever we can through events such as this. I hope as many local suppliers as possible come along, find out about the opportunities available and register with us."

Representatives from the estates department will be on hand to answer any questions and there will also be staff from Constructionline available to assist with queries regarding the registration process.

Anyone requiring further information can email allan.williams@lancashire.pnn.police.uk or call 01253 8874440.

NEW FACE FOR NEW GENERATION SOUTHPORT LAW FIRM

Magnus Legal is the new face of Bromiley Holcroft Solicitors, an independent family run solicitors firm that has been based in Southport for 25 years.

The business was set up by Southport resident Martin Holcroft in 1988 when it was just him in a single office in Lytham St Annes. In 1991 Martin moved the business back to his home town of Southport.

Bromiley Holcroft built up a reputation as one of the few 'good guys' in the personal injury world looking after seriously injured clients, particularly motorcyclists.

At its peak Bromiley Holcroft dealt with over 300 cases per month employing over 60 local people.

The recent and future changes to the law to try and save insurance companies money by clamping down on fraudulent personal injury claims means that many genuine personal injury solicitors are also likely to be a thing of the past.

But the Southport family business is not giving up. Emma and John, the next generation in the Holcroft family have stepped up with their own fresh approach, paving the way for the future of the business.

Magnus Legal are now offering clients the full range of legal services.

Martin: "I have got to the age where I want to take more of a back seat. My children have always worked in the firm and I am pleased that they see it as their future and want to carry it on. They are young, they have the energy and determination and new and modern ideas."

It is rare for businesses to be kept in families nowadays, particularly in the legal sector. Although Martin is still in the background providing his advice and experience, Emma and John are taking the reigns and taking the business to new heights.

Emma: "We have always been run more as a business than a traditional old fashioned solicitor's practice and we are bringing this approach to all areas of law. We know that people don't want to have to use a solicitor but when they do, they expect a proper thorough service and like every other service now, they want the matter to be dealt with efficiently, want to know exactly what it is going to cost, they want it to be convenient and to be communicated with all the way through. These are areas that many traditional solicitors lack in but it is what we are homing in on".

John: "It is a big challenge to take on but there is a lot of experience in the business. Mixed with our own modern approach, use of technology and strong customer focus we are excited to see what the future holds"

Emily targets dream volunteer nursing mission to Sri Lanka

Edge Hill student needs to raise £1,600 to fund trip

Report by Ollie Cowan

A STUDENT nurse has launched a fundraising campaign to help her achieve a long-held ambition to volunteer abroad.

Emily Cropper, a third year adult nursing student at Edge Hill University, needs to raise £1,600 to fund a month-long stint volunteering at a hospital in Sri Lanka.

The 20-year-old from Southport has set her sights on making the trip to help out at the Kandy teaching hospital, the second largest hospital on the island nation which she says would be 'a dream come true.'

She said: "I have always wanted to be a nurse since I was a little girl. I am very passionate about nursing and have had some amazing experiences on placements in the UK.

"But I would very much like to experience health care abroad and I'm currently fundraising to try and get enough money so I can volunteer at a hospital in Sri Lanka for a month in June. While there I would provide care and treatment to those in need in a country that is much less affluent than the UK.

Emily Cooper wants to fulfil her dream of nursing abroad

"Hopefully, if I reach my target the funds are going to enable me to work voluntarily in the General Teaching Hospital in Kandy, Sri Lanka, where I will be working in the theatre and A&E departments dealing with trauma and emergency care.

"This trip will not only help me gain vital experience for my future career and help me live my dream of helping others, but provide much-needed hands-on experience and enable me to share the nursing knowledge I have gained so far in my training."

For more information about Emily's campaign go to www.gofundme.com/xqng2f4s.

Memorial fund donation is 'grand' gesture for hospice

Report by Danielle Thompson

A DONATION of £1,000 has been made to Queenscourt Hospice from a memorial fund.

Members of the Lady Lathom Endowment and Memorial Fund made the donation to the Southport-based hospice, which cares for patients with serious illnesses from Southport, Formby and West Lancs, enabling them to achieve the best possible quality of life at each new stage.

Paul Kenyon, clerk and treasurer of the fund, said: "The fund was set up in the early 1900s by the then Second Earl of Lathom, Lord Derby and Mr Winsloe, a Liverpool merchant, all prominent Freemasons, in memory of the late Countess of Lathom, Countess Alice, who was tragically killed in 1897 in a coaching accident on the Lathom estates.

"The fund originally provided nurses who administered to sick people in the Lathom and Skelmersdale areas before the start of the NHS

"Over the years, the fund has made donations to various charitable causes in Lathom and Skelmersdale and is still operated by local Freemasons."

On Monday, March 14, fund trustee Bryan Collier and Paul Kenyon presented the cheque to Queenscourt Hospice's individual giving fundraiser Harriet Wilkinson and nurse Angela Bevington.

Church conversion plans re-submitted

PLANS to convert a former church into a nursery have been submitted for a second time.

Applicant, Gillian Lloyd has re-submitted a planning application to West Lancs Council for a change of use of the former Rufford Methodist Church in Brick Kiln Lane.

Plans were originally submitted in June last year but were withdrawn in September as Mrs Lloyd stated that she was awaiting a number of reports.

The building was sold on property website Rightmove for £250,000 in 2013.

Planning permission was previously granted to convert the property into a residential home.

Store launches search for caring young pet owners

STAFF at a new pet store in Burscough are holding a competition to find the 'most caring and responsible' young pet owner in the area.

The winner of the competition, which is open to primary and secondary school children who live in Burscough, will win £100 of Pets at Home vouchers.

And along with their entire school class they will be invited to participate in an exclusive workshop at the store at the Ringtail Retail Park, where they will learn about the welfare needs of different animals.

The class will also get to see and hold some of the store's small animals up close.

Store manager, Sarah Yould, said: "Owning a pet is often the first responsibility many children get to enjoy. We are really looking forward to hearing the great examples of responsible pet ownership from young people in the local area and celebrating the next generation of pet owners.

"We want to recognise a young pet owner who has shown a level of responsibility way beyond their years when it comes to caring for their furry friends. They might be taking on essential duties involved in pet care, or have formed a special bond with their pet.

"Burscough's young pet owner will be a shining example of how the five pet welfare needs - shelter, food and water, good health, appropriate company and the right living environment – are essential for keeping pets happy and healthy."

To nominate a young pet owner, email petslocal@havasww.com with details of why they are deserving of the title, plus the nominee's school and contact details with Burscough in the subject box by Friday, March 25.

Some great prizes are up for grabs for one caring young pet owner and their classmates

St John's net place in schools county finals

SPORTY youngsters from a primary school in Burscough have netted a place at this year's SPAR Lancashire School Games county finals after taking victory in high five netball.

The team from St John's Church of England Primary School battled it out against pupils from Woodland Community Primary at Glenburn Sports College to bag the top spot.

They will now go on to represent West Lancashire at the SPAR Lancashire School Games finals at Stanley Park, Blackpool on July 5, where they will compete against teams from 14 other Lancashire districts to be named county champions in high five netball.

The keenly-contested match saw the St John's net six goals in the first half of the game alone, while they scored an additional goal and conceded one in the second period of the match.

Chris Hart, the school games organiser for West Lancashire, said: "This year's high five netball spot at the SPAR Lancashire School Games was much sought after, with both teams displaying a high level of skill and sportsmanship throughout the match.

"A massive well-done to the pupils from Burscough St John's Church of England Primary School for bagging the place. I can't wait to cheer you on at the county finals."

Spring sunshine brings sports car enthusiasts out in force for meeting

THE advent of some spring weather at the weekend was welcomed by the West Lancs MG Owners Club with 22 members in attendance for the meeting on Sunday, March 13 rounded off with lunch at the Farmers Arms in Bispham.

Spokesman, Steve Kirton said: "As it was such a fine early spring day with the sun shining, the drivers of eight MGs turned out to enjoy the social occasion and there were two MGB-GTs, a RV8, a MGF, two MGAs, a MGB and a MGTF.

We would love to welcome anyone who lives in West Lancs or surrounding areas with a classic car who would like to join us having social nights out, going to car shows and events and just generally having a bit of fun while raising money for deserving charities.

"We meet at Briars Hall Lathom on the third Thursday of every month at 8pm."

New nursery set to open at 'outstanding' primary school

A BALLOON release will mark the opening of a new nursery at an 'outstanding' West Lancashire primary school tomorrow (Thursday, March 17).

Report by Danielle Thompson

The nursery at Richard Durnings Primary School, Bispham will cater for youngsters from three years upwards until they reach primary school age.

Among guests at the event at the school in Chorley Road will be Lancashire County Council's new school advisor, Ruth Ross and chair of governors, Geoff Monk, along with local families and pupils and friends of the school.

Prospective and current parents are invited to arrive for coffee at 9am and will be given the opportunity to look around the nursery before the balloon release is staged at 10am.

The school was judged to be outstanding in all areas by Ofsted in their most recent inspection.

Headteacher, Catherine Hodgson, said: "Our new nursery school provision will give pre-school children living in the village and surrounding areas a fantastic introduction to school life and make the transition to reception as easy and natural as possible.

"All nursery children are included in the full life of school and enjoy regular trips out of the school environment.

"The nursery and reception children work and play together in the Early Years classroom with carefully planned activities linked to their individual needs and levels of development.

"All children have daily access to their own outdoor garden which they help to develop and change according to the curriculum and their individual interests.

"We're really proud of our new nursery and we are all looking forward to formally introducing new and existing families to our excellent facilities and friendly staff."

Touring one woman show coming to Arts Centre

A TOURING one woman show, written by and starring Phina Oruche who played supermodel Liberty Baker in ITV1's Footballers' Wives is coming to The Arts Centre at Edge Hill University.

Spending more than two decades of her life taking on other people's identities - first as a New York fashion model and later as an award-winning TV actress - has taken its toll on Phina.

Her new one woman show,Identity Crisis, was written as part of her Masters degree at Ormskirk's Edge Hill University and although it is based upon her own life story, it explores identity struggles that are common to all of us.

Through its low key staging, the show provides a vehicle for Phina's larger than life characterisations. From Amy Tan, a working class white girl with a Scouse brow and a taste for spray tans and black lads to Antonio de Silva, a football crazy Italian living in LA who misses their mum, Phina brings a colourful cast of eight characters to life, all of whom are having their own identity crises.

Meet Mary Middle Class, widowed in her 50s, she now picks up men at funerals, Rasta, mixed race, dreadlocked, Liverpool born and bred but talks like a yardie and Mama Nukku, loosely based on her own Nigerian mother.

The tale begins with the real life story of the sudden death of Phina's 19-year-old niece in her house in 2011 and the ensuing press intrusion. Phina said: "After years of identity struggles, writing this show has given me the freedom to play characters I would never get cast as.

"All of my characters are vulnerable, flawed and struggling with who they are and this makes them very human. "Many of my characters are working class and are portraying voices and experiences that are often absent on stage and screen."

The show can be seen at The Arts Centre on Tuesday, April 12 at 7.30pm.

Prenger to star in classic Lloyd Webber musical

ANDREW Lloyd Webber and Don Black's classic musical Tell Me On A Sunday starring Jodie Prenger, is coming to the Liverpool Empire Theatre on Monday, May 23.

The show charts the romantic misadventures of a young English girl in New York in the heady days of the 1980's. Brimming with optimism, she seeks success and love. But as she weaves her way through the maze of the city and her own anxieties, frustrations and heartaches she begins to wonder whether she's been looking for love in all the wrong places. This iconic musical, with an original score, features the chart-topping Take That Look Off Your Face and the title track Tell Me On A Sunday.

Jodie Prenger is probably best known for winning the role of Nancy in Cameron Mackintosh's West End production of Oliver! through the BBC television series I'd Do Anything.

During her run in the show at the Theatre Royal Drury Lane she received both critical and public acclaim for her portrayal of the role.

The Illegal Eagles are coming to Southport

Illegal Eagles to make a flying visit to theatre

LONG established as the World's Official No.1 Eagles' tribute, The Illegal Eagles make a return to Southport Theatre this Saturday (March 19).

Promising more of their tight harmonies, acute attention to detail and showmanship, this is not just a night for fans of the Eagles, but for those of great music and musicianship.

The band's ability to recreate the distinctive sound of the Eagles, has won them mass acclaim on an international level.

Founder Phil Aldridge leads the show into its third decade shoulder to shoulder with Al Vosper, Keith Atack, Garreth Hicklin, Greg Webb and brand new bass player and lead vocalist, Trev Newnham.

Now with four lead vocalists, the 2016 production introduces a new repertoire of songs, complementing the ever-present classics such as: New Kid in Town, Tequila Sunrise, Hotel California, Take It Easy, Lyin' Eyes, Life in the Fast Lane, Take it to the Limit, and many more.

This latest production also features a special tribute to the late Glenn Frey, one of the original founding members of the Eagles.

A reckless minority are ruining it for the rest of the road users

Life On Cars
DAVID SIMISTER
www.lifeoncars.blogspot.com

BIKERS are more us than them. Devotees of all things two-wheeled are genuinely into their machinery, they'll meet up with likeminded folk at shows and they appreciate a journey is about so much more than the destination.

They also know something I've rarely experienced as a car nut. The stigma of being tarred with one broad sweep of a an angry community's brush, simply because a few idiots are going out there and ruining it for everyone else.

That's the pain I came away with after venturing out of Champion-land and reading one of the North Wales newspapers, in which frustrated farmers are teaming up with the local bobbies to condemn just about anyone who even thinks about driving on a certain trio of roads in the Conwy countryside for enjoyment's sake.

The sort of heavy-handed policing traditionally reserved for hedonists with Honda Fireblades and Suzuki Hayabusas is now being mooted for people with hot hatchbacks and Caterhams. Not without justification, mind; North Wales Police is apparently getting a bit fed up with groups of cars doing upwards of 90mph on their home turf!

All of which leaves me a tad pensive. I am one of the very people some of those farmers would probably like to see banned – I've driven the roads in question on many occasions in my Minis and Mazda MX-5s for no good reason other than to enjoy them.

It is 30 miles of some of Britain's most enjoyable motoring, where you can appreciate all the little nuances of the suspension set up and the smile-inducing way the steering chats excitedly to you through the corners. Yet here's the shocking thing - you can do all of that without breaking the 60mph speed limit.

The real problem's when you get thrillseekers tearing past in even quicker bits of kit, which is exactly what happened a few years ago on a petrol-head outing a few mates and I were on.

My MX-5, a Ford Racing Puma, a Volkswagen Polo G40 and a Metro GTi aren't exactly slouches – yet all four of our cars were overtaken by a Porsche Boxster S, a Mini Cooper Works GP and a tuned Civic Type R. We were doing 60mph, but for this trio the limit just wasn't enough.

I dread the idea of a 60mph road that can be enjoyed safely (and legally) being forced down to 40mph because of the idiots who insist on taking it at 100mph – and chances are they'll continue doing that speed anyway. I understand how bikers feel, because a reckless minority are ruining it for everyone else who loves great cars and wonderful roads.

Chances are if you're reading The Champion that you're not a Welsh farmer, but if you are then please appreciate that 99% of us petrolheads are just normal, law-abiding people who like cars.

If you're someone who's tempted to belt down the A543 at 100mph then sell the Honda S2000 and get something you'll enjoy at normal speeds.

You'll be doing the rest of us all a massive favour.

Jones double gives Linnets home victory

Burscough 2
Witton Albion 0

A DOUBLE from striker Will Jones gave the Linnets all three points to keep them in the play off positions.

Burscough took the lead on 72 minutes when the forward opened the scoring before he added to his tally four minutes later to make it 2-0.

It means the Linnets remain in fifth place but will drop down to sixth if Clitheroe win their game in hand. It is set-up to be an exciting end to the season with Burscough having 11 gamesremaining to fight for a play-off place in the hope of gaining promotion for next season.

Burscough were due to face Bamber Bridge last night (Tuesday) before they travel to Spennymoor Town this Saturday.

Spennymoor, currently placed second in the table, will prove to be tough opposition, with Burscough losing 2-0 at home to the side earlier on this season.

Hazeldine bags hat-trick

Report by Neil Leatherbarrow

Skelmersdale United 3
Salford City 1

STRIKER Max Hazeldine scored a hat-trick to cause an upset as Skelmersdale beat high-flying Salford City.

The teenager gave the away side a lesson in finishing to make it 11 goals in 14 appearances since signing on loan from Accrington Stanley.

The first goal was made by Paul Woolcott who played an early ball over the Salford defence and left a defender isolated one on one with Hazeldine.

The striker looked up and cleverly chipped the ball from around 18 yards over a back-pedalling goalkeeper and inside the far post to give Skelmersdale the lead.

Salford equalised from the spot when former Premier League striker Danny Webber fired the penalty kick low to Martin Fearon's right-hand side.

On 42 minutes Skelmersdale struck again. Hazeldine, Louis Corrigan and Mike Brewster combined well on the left, Brewster saw his effort blocked and the ball ran out to Hazeldine about 15 yards from goal, he smashed the ball wide of the City keeper and into the net to give Skem the half-time advantage.

Two minutes after the restart a loose pass across the Skelmersdale defence was almost very costly. The ball was intercepted by Clarke; his shot looked goalbound until Fearon superbly got a finger-tip to the ball and diverted it onto the crossbar. It proved to be the one bit of luck all afternoon, but significantly it was caused by a Skelmersdale error rather than Salford's approach play.

Hazeldine slots in his third goal. Picture by Stuart Driscoll.

Salford were now having more of the possession but were not creating a great deal in the way of danger, most efforts were from distance, the best a shot from Steve O'Halloran that fizzed wide of the target.

On 71 minutes Skelmersdale gave themselves the breathing space they required. Deep in the Skem half Kenny Strickland skilfully brought the ball down and beat his opponent at the same time, he then played a 35 yard through ball to Hazeldine, again putting him one on one with Salford defender Chris Lynch. Hazeldine saw off the defenders challenge and now bearing down on goal, slotted the ball low under Jay Lynch and into the net behind him, bringing about an eleven man Skelmersdale celebration by the clubhouse corner flag.

However, instead of Salford threatening it was Skelmersdale who almost made it four.

A Hazeldine cross finding Dylan Vassallo, the substitutes shot brought an acrobatic save from Jay Lynch, before the rebound was fired wide.

Salford increased the pressure, but again generated not much except a number of corners that were dealt with fairly comfortably, Chris Lynch had a header grasped by Fearon and Howson missed the target with the better attempts.

It was Skelmersdale's eighth win in Salford's last nine visits to Skem.

Lawson wants to build on Salford win

Report by Neil Leatherbarrow

SKELMERSDALE United manager Tommy Lawson will be looking forward to the next couple of weeks, as after Saturday's fine performance against Salford City his side take on a run of four games that should on paper yield a few points.

Hesaid: "It was an important win on Saturday and one that left me very pleased, especially for the supporters who back the lads through thick and thin.

"I told the lads after the Stamford I was going to bring in a couple of new faces to freshen things up and make it a bit more competitive for places in the team.

"Based on the evidence from Saturday it worked well. I want us to go now and finish the season strongly."

The run starts with a trip to Hyde United on Saturday, then a home game against Whitby Town on Tuesday, March 22.

Skelmersdale have already beaten Hyde twice this season 2-1 at Stormy Corner and away at the very start of their FA Trophy run.

Easter weekend begins with a visit to Matlock Town on Easter Saturday then a home game against FA Trophy semi-finalists Nantwich Town on Easter Monday.

Skelmersdale have beaten Matlock this season, plus although they lost on Boxing Day, they performed well at Nantwich.

It will certainly be a close game at Ewen Fields on Saturday. Skelmersdale are four points above the men from the east of Manchester with both teams having played 36 matches.

The three meeting this season opened with a 3-3 draw at Stormy Corner that was memorable for a Tony Rendell rocket that set up a replay.

"The replay was actually played twice as the first attempt was abandoned after 20 minutes because of fog.

However, with a makeshift side due to traffic problems around Manchester, Skelmersdale won 1-0, with again Rendell having an outstanding game.

"In the league meeting at Skem in February a brace from Max Hazeldine were enough to give Skem a 2-1 win. So it is expected to be tight on Saturday.

Tuesday sees Skelmersdale's first encounter with Whitby, the North Yorkshiremen make the long trip in need of points as they sit in 21st place, ten points behind Skelmersdale, so be it with a game in hand.

"They will have all to play for, making it a difficult game for the 7.45 kick off.

Remyca kicked out of cup

LITHERLAND Remyca have been kicked out of the Reusch First Division Cup for fielding an illegible player.

They had reached the semi-final after beating Irlam 3-2 in the previous round – but officials from the North West Counties League were made aware of the breach in rules. In a bizarre twist, Irlam also fielded an illegible player in the game so they have also been removed from the competition.

A league statement says: "In the quarter final tie between Litherland Remyca and Irlam, Litherland Remyca won 3-2 and progressed to the semi-final, where they were drawn at home to Hanley Town.

Remyca travel to Irlam on Saturday.
